VIRGIN MARY PISTOL GRIP'S "GINGER JESUS" MUSIC VIDEO RELEASE

April 12, 2019 - The Omaha based rock band, Virgin Mary Pistol Grip, has released a new music video. "Ginger Jesus" from their latest EP, "Secret Codes" was directed and edited by Sean Thomas of Inspired Film Studios.

The video presents a playful interpretation of a virtual escape sought through television. The band worked with Brady Bock, owner of Harney Street Tavern, to film several scenes in his establishment. Members of the VMPG fan club were also cast as extras.

To view the video, visit Virgin Mary Pistol Grip's YouTube channel.

"Ginger Jesus" is the second single and from the band's current EP "Secret Codes".

"Secret Codes" was recorded at Omaha's Make Believe Studios and at Blue Room Studios in Los Angeles. The album is available for purchase online at iTunes, Amazon, CD Baby, and at music stores in Omaha. VMPG's music can also be streamed on Spotify, iHeartRadio and Apple Music.

Upcoming show dates can be found at virginmarypistolgrip.com
